

Silt Curtain

Silt Curtain manufactured by Norlense AS prevents polluted mud from the sea floor spread trough the water collum. Silt Curtain consists of a freeboard containing expanded polystrene. No air filling required. The skirt is manufactured of a special membrane which only allows water to pass through. The skirt is adapted to the water depth in the actual area. Silt curtains are often used when cleaning up polluted mud from harbour.

